

“To everything there is a season...”

2011 Sand Dialogues: The Four Seasons

New Mexico Sandplay Society presents Part IV of the 2011 series on the seasons~

“Autumn”

Saturday, October 1, 2011

1:00 pm to 4:00 pm

Susan Macnofsky’s Home

6 Las Huertas Road

Placitas, NM 87043

(505) 867-1430

Autumn is the time for harvest, rich colors, and the enjoyment of wisdom accrued from living fully. It may also mean shorter days and the coming of lean times. Come join NMSS for our next Sand Dialog as Anita Treloar, Ph.D. and Lorraine R. Freedle, Ph.D. lead us in a discussion on the symbolism of Autumn and how it relates to the archetypes in Sandplay. Sandplay scenes with Autumn symbolism will be reviewed. Participants may also bring an “autumn” figure from their sandplay collection to share.

Fee/CEU’s: Free for NMSS members, $20 for non-members. Refreshments will be provided. Fee includes 2.5 CEU’s approved through the NM Counseling and Therapy Practice Board, and the NM Board of Social Work

Please RSVP to info@nmsst.org if you are planning to attend.
Directions to Susan’s house are available on MapQuest.

P.O. Box 8328
Albuquerque, NM 87198